HARRIMAN RAID NIPPED IN BUD

SPEECH HELPFUL

HIS OPTIMISM BRINGS INVEST-ORS BACK AFTER STOCK.

New York, Sept. 19.—The speculative New York, Sept. 19.—The speculative demand for securities expanded and broadened materially last week and carried prices comprehensively upwards, making record prices for some of the most active speculative mediums. The motive for the revived activity ostensibly was the renewed confidence in the growth of business with the results of the Utah Manufacturers' association. The physicians urged the parents to see to it that the premises of their homes were kept clean of all rubbish; that nothing of a disease breeding nature might be allowed to accumulate. They called attention to the common fallacy of keeping all windows of the house closed to prevent the inmates from taking cold. "Keep the house well aired," was the injunction of the men of medicine. Pure Harriman Expected Raid.

In both of the last formidable statements coming from the late E. H. Harriman there were references to the interest shown in his condition by friends 'and others," and to attempt to raid his properties during his absence in Europe which bore a strong flavor of resentment. Information emanating from the American bankers' convention alleged the miscarriage of a plan for the reorganization of the finances the Union Pacific and the segregation of its investment assets through the furtive formation of a stock mar-ket pool in the securities of the company, which prompted Mr. Harriman

Set free from the restraint of these fears of quarrels amongst financiers and from the long dread of shock to haif over. The activity of time money market in New York carried interest rates to a higher level than since the business revival and larger offerings of mercantile paper raised the rates also for that form of credit. The 3 per cent rate for call loans which was established has been touched before in that time, but not sustained.

Imany weary travelers.

Many and varied are the experiences of the Travelers' Aid, and two of the past week are given. A little Finland girl, who could neither speak nor understand a word of English, broke her fast in Salt Lake, the first time since leaving New York city, because no one thought to see that she had food.

Through the Travelers' Aid the young girl, who was relieved of all of her money by a confidence man, received carfare and surplus reserve before the week was open breach would result among the insiders in the property and that the insiders in the property and that the integrity of the market pool in United States Steel would also be endangered by the hostile measures tikely to develop. It was relief from the effect of this apprehension that had much to do with the buoyant recovery of securities last week.

Young Morgan Feared.

The announcement of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. that they were acting with the City National bank and other interests in Union Pacific gave the first check to anxiety in this matter. It was renewed to some extent at the opening of last week by the failure to elect the property in the iron trade last week and activity in the iron trade last week. A sharp advance in the prices of furnace and foundry coke, the offerings of several cargoes of German basic iron and scrap and the receipts of numerous bids by the United States government for a large tonnage of old material to be brought from the Isthmus of Panama were also features of interest.

There is a large tonnage of rails under negotiation for both eastern and western railroads. Contracts for steel under frame cars are also pending aggregating 10,000 and orders for about 3,000 have been placed. Orders for locomotives with the seal thereof affixed this 13th day of September, A. D. 1909.
